Stop Women trafficking, Child abuse and Women Harassment

- The broken heart will never heal completely
- Protecting child and women from being abuse is inevitable as they cant protect themselves.
- In our country more than 15,50,000 Children have been abused or neglected last year and women trafficking and women harassments were being listed as fourth largest organised crime.

Approximately four children die every day as a result of child abuse and parents neglect and also there is an enormous increase in the numbers of crimes like women trafficking and harrasements.

Our children our future

Mothers health will be at verge of deterioration after the child but and the pain which she feels during the labor is as intense as the pain equal to breaking of 24 ribs at once.

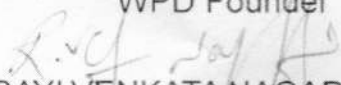

There is a space for emergence of prevention better than cure.

In this regard, I am here with humble request to asking permission letter to conduct awareness programmes in Schools, Colleges of Andhra Pradesh.

Thanking you,

Yours Sincerely

WPD Founder

(RAYI VENKATA NAGARJUN)
